COMMISSIONERS SLASH TAX RATE 1 MILL FOR '43

The Adams county commissioners at their weekly meeting Wednesday reduced the county tax rate from 7 1/2 to 6 1/2 mills for 1943 and tentatively adopted the 1943 budget on that basis. Final adoption of the budget for the year will take place next month.

The commissioners said that the tax cut was made possible by a cut in operating costs in the county government and by the success of the campaigns to collect outstanding taxes and to have unlisted taxable property placed on the assessors' rolls.

The new rate represents a 2 1/2-mill cut in the last 10 years and places Adams county among the lowest counties of the state in point of tax millage, the announcement from the commissioners' office stated.

The commissioners took occasion to review their 3-year accomplishments both in the way of financial improvement of the county's condition and improvements to county buildings, furnishings and equipment.

$10,000 Tax Liens

It was pointed out that during the last three years, the commissioners collected approximately $10,000 from tax liens while the campaign for the collection of outstanding taxes has resulted in the reduction of the total of delinquent taxes from a point near the $100,000 mark to less than $50,000, their lowest point in many years.

There has been an increase of about $300,000 in the assessed valuation of taxable property in the county during the last three years, due in part to new construction and also to the policy of placing unassessed property on a taxable basis.

In the same three-year period, the general fund of the county has shown a net increase of about $14,000 while the institutional district fund has jumped about $18,000.

$20,000 Bridge Work

The increase in the institution district fund was achieved in spite of the fact that the administration building and the ladies' department at the county home were thoroughly renovated and new heating facilities were installed.

A new sewer system was installed at the county home by which the sewage is conveyed by gravity flow into the Gettysburg borough system, replacing the more costly pumping system formerly used and always a constant source of trouble and expense.

In the last three years the commissioners spent about $20,000 in the construction of new bridges and rebuilding of old spans. The court house was repainted and its tower and roof were repaired. A new records vault was completed in the basement and the court room and law library were refurbished.

During last year the commissioners conducted an assessors' school to advance the policy of equalizing assessments throughout the county and to help place all tax payments on a current basis.

Last year the commissioners launched a drive to collect personal property taxes which netted $3,600 in the first six months and an additional $1,700 after the first of this year.

Commissioners George P. Taylor, J. Arthur Boyd and Edgar C. McDannell attended the meeting with their chief clerk, Clarence C. Smith.

Ask Cooperation In Gas Rations

With the approach of expiration dates for many "B" and "C" gasoline ration books, the Adams county rationing board made this announcement today:

"January 22 is the date for the renewal of many 'B' and 'C' gasoline rations. It is possible that some motorists will not receive their book by that date. We are hoping to have them in the hands of the applicant by that time if possible. However, due to the pressure of work this month, such an end may not be possible.

"If motorists do not receive their ration by that date and have made the proper application for the same, they are urged not to go to their local board because on January 22 they will have 24 gallons of gasoline available from the 'A' book on Coupon No. 4. This should be sufficient for the average driver to last him from a week to a month. "We are asking the public to co-operate so that we do not have an overflow at any of the local board offices."

Injured Cadet Returns Home; Week's Leave

Cadet Earl R. Deardorff, who has been a patient at the United States Naval hospital at Jacksonville, Florida, for the last seven months, has been given a week's leave of absence to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin O. Deardorff, Biglerville. He was expected home today.

Cadet Deardorff is recovering from critical injuries he received in an airplane crash on June 29 and is now able to walk without the aid of crutches.

A medical corps member from the hospital is accompanying him home and will make the return trip to Jacksonville with him where the county man expects to remain a patient for some time.

WOMAN FALLS DOWN STAIRS AND IS KILLED

A fall down a flight of basement stairs, Wednesday evening, fractured the neck of Miss Carrie M. Yost, 70, Kingsdale, and caused instant death.

Miss Yost, who resided at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Stermer, had gone to the cellar stairway to place a kitchen utensil on a shelf there. She apparently made a misstep and fell to the basement floor. When members of the Stermer family reached her, she was dead. The accident occurred about 6:30 o'clock.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, investigated and said that death had been instantaneous and was due to a broken neck.

Miss Yost was a native of York county and formerly resided in Hanover.

A brother, H. B. Yost, Hanover, and three sisters survive: Mrs. Herbert Darling, Upper Darby; Mrs. William Moul, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Stermer with whom she lived.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Stermer home with the Rev. Dr. Harry Hursh Beidelman, pastor of St. Matthews' Lutheran church in Hanover, officiating. Interment at Mt. Olivet cemetery in Hanover.

CHURCH BURNS MORTGAGE AT ANNUAL MEET

One hundred and sixty-five persons attended the annual congregational dinner and business meeting at Christ Lutheran church Wednesday evening which was featured by the burning of the mortgage on the church indebtedness which was incurred in the remodeling of the church 12 years ago.

The dinner was served by the Women's Service Guild of the church. The Rev. Dwight F. Putman, pastor, gave his yearly report and other reports were given by treasurers and heads of the various church auxiliaries.

A. Harrison Barr, building fund treasurer, reported the church indebtedness had been liquidated during the last year and this was followed by the burning of the mortgage.

The following were elected to the church council for two years: Lester Johnson, Paul Kinsey, Kermit Herter, Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, Dr. George Miller and Dr. Thomas L. Cline.

BIRTHDAY BALL GROUPS NAMED FOR EACH TOWN

Appointment of committee chairman and members to promote Birthday parties in each community in the county, with the privilege of setting their own dates and an appeal for voluntary sponsors, Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, county chairman, said today she is hopeful of raising a substantial amount this year despite gasoline rationing and the ban on pleasure driving.

"We are not asking anyone to drive to our party in Gettysburg, on January 29, unless essential business requires use of their car that evening and they can reach the party at the Hotel Gettysburg without additional driving," Mr. Codori said.

"We also realize that during these trying times our major efforts are directed toward an early winning of the war. However, we feel that fighting infantile paralysis is a serious and important objective and that we should all do whatever we can to help those unfortunate who may be stricken by this affliction. Patronizing the Birthday Parties will provide a little relaxation for all of us and at the same time assist this worthy cause," she added.

Grant Right To Lay New Pipe Line

Twenty-one rights of way from property owners in northeastern Adams county in favor of the Defense Plant Corporation have been filed at the office of Recorder Winfield G. Horner at the court house giving permission for the laying of the new oil pipe line across their lands.

The rights of way generally cover the section from Heldsburg to the eastern edge of the county while title searches are being made at the court house on properties along the remainder of the pipe line route to the western edge of the county near Graffenburg inn. Rights of way were secured on the eastern leg of the route across the county. Construction is proceeding westward from the Susquehanna on this leg of the line from Texas oil fields to refineries in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Robert Deardorff Gets Commission

Robert H. Deardorff, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Deardorff, Carlisle street, has returned to his home here on a brief leave of absence after receiving his commission as a second lieutenant at an officers' training school at Fort Belvoir, Virginia. He will report about February 4 at a west coast camp.

He enlisted in the service on June 16 of last year and was assigned first to Fort Meade. He entered the officers' training school in late October.

ARRANGE FARM SURVEY OF '43 CROPS, NEEDS

The need of 2,700 Adams county farmers for credit, labor, machinery, feeds, fertilizers, gasoline or other farm supplies, and his production plans for 1943 will be surveyed by the members of the 12 agricultural district committees before March 1 and the results will be distributed among a half dozen agencies for their guidance and information.

An all-day meeting was held at the court house here on Wednesday when instructions were given to the committeemen by Clarence Kulp, farmer field man for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who came here from Chester county to join with other farm-connected officials in preparing for the survey. Mr. Kulp praised the county committee for their cooperativeness and "evident ability to handle the survey adequately."

Survey Next Week

Fifty-five persons attended the meeting. The group was made up chiefly of committee members but included County Agent M. T. Hartman, Paul B. Pierson, of the U. S. Employment Service; D. E. Hess, farm forester, in the U.S.D.A. office here; Baker Barnhart, representing a farm credit organization, and Richard C. Lighter, county vocational agriculture adviser.

Each community committee was instructed to hold a meeting of its own in preparation for the county-wide survey which will open next week or as soon as the farm plan work sheets are received here.

On the basis of crop plans of 1943 that are recorded on the survey sheets, it will be determined whether Adams county is measuring up to its crop production goal set by the U.S.D.A. Mr. Kulp told the committeemen that in general the '43 goals for this area are not greatly in excess of 1942 production but that special emphasis is being placed on soy beans, potatoes, peas, tomatoes, snap beans and sweet corn.

Essential List

Farmers may plant as much field corn as they wish without being penalized under the crop control plan as long as they live up to all other features of their 1943 farm plan, Kulp said.

"Every crop grown in Adams county is on the essential list and some increases are asked on all excepting wheat," Mr. Kulp said.

One section of the survey report will be turned over to the Selective Service boards in the county, another to manpower authorities, another to the agricultural War Board and the other will be used by the agricultural committees in studying county production plans in comparison with government-set 1943 goals.

NAME RIFE AS DRAFT EVADER

Frederick G. Rife, 42-year-old insurance salesman of Conewago township, was indicted in federal court in Lewisburg, Wednesday, for a violation of the Selective Service act.

Inquiry today at the office of Draft Board No. 1 at New Oxford disclosed that Rife has claimed he was a conscientious objector and had been classified in 1A-O as available for non-combatant service. The classification was not appealed but when Rife was ordered to Harrisburg early in December for his physical examination, he refused to report and was reported to federal authorities as delinquent.

Rife is well known in Adams county having once campaigned as a candidate for director of the poor and later as the county manager for a gubernatorial candidate. His address is Mt. Rock road, Hanover R. D.

Two Adams county men, both identified as "Jehovah's Witnesses," were indicted by a federal grand jury at Lewisburg, Wednesday, for violation of the Selective Service act.

The defendants are Mervin M. Alwine of Abbotstown and Harold Emanuel Cluck of Littlestown. Both refused to obey orders from Draft Board No. 1 at New Oxford to report for duty with a civilian public service camp as "conscientious objectors."

Cluck was arrested earlier this month and Alwine early in December by deputy U. S. marshals who came here with warrants. Both cases now await disposition in federal court.

MISS DAUGHERTY WEDS SERGEANT

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mildred E. Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Daugherty, East Middle street, and Sergeant Clarence E. Kitzmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Blaine Kitzmiller, West Middle street, in York, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Kitzmiller wore a street ensemble of light blue with a matching veiled hat and an orchid corsage. The couple was unattended.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg high school in 1936 and for several years has been employed at The Gettysburg Times office.

Sergeant Kitzmiller is a graduate of Gettysburg high school in the class of 1934 and attended Gettysburg college. Before induction into the Army, he was assistant manager of the G. C. Murphy store in Bellefonte. At present he is stationed at Camp Blanding, Florida, with the medical detachment.

The bride will reside at the home of her parents for the present.

3 STUDENTS TO RECEIVE ARMY COMMISSIONS

Three new officers will join Uncle Sam's Army next Monday and two others, one a Gettysburg young man, will become officers in a few months.

The three officers will receive commissions as second lieutenants in the Army at mid-year commencement exercises at Gettysburg college signifying completion of the prescribed Reserve Officers Training Corps course.

The new officers are: James Weston Dunaway, II, of Bala Cynwyd; Thomas Norman Cannavo, of Merchantville, New Jersey, and James Newton Peck, of Ford City.

William E. Hutchison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Hutchison, West High street, and John B. Villella, of Walston, Pa., also will complete the ROTC course and graduate from college. However, these young men will not receive their commissions until they complete a course at a service school to which they have been ordered.

The reason for the delay is that Hutchison and Villella had not completed their summer camp training course. They were unable to do so because the government cancelled summer camps last year because of the war. In lieu of that training they will be sent to a service school and later will receive their commissions.

Twenty-one other members of the ROTC will receive their commissions at commencement exercises in June.

At the present time there are 289 students enrolled in the ROTC at the college—153 are freshmen, 86 are sophomores, 28 are juniors and 22 are seniors. Three others have been transferred to the Medical Administrative Corps.

Uniform Interest Rates Considered

Preliminary action on uniform interest rates for time and savings deposits was taken by representatives of eight banks at the January meeting of the Adams County Bankers' association which was held Wednesday evening at the Battlefield hotel. President Lloyd W. Kuhn of Bendersville presided.

It was stated that a public announcement will be made by the county bankers later this month on their unified action on interest rates. There was no entertainment program at the meeting, the whole evening being given over to business.

Must Pay Cash For Gas!

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Petroleum Administration today prohibited all credit buying of gasoline and other petroleum products by private motor cars, effective February 1.

The order provides that retail gasoline marketers or suppliers may not "grant, accept or participate in the granting or accepting, directly or indirectly of credit in connection with the sale of any petroleum product," but makes exceptions for sale to federal, state or local governments, for commercial use of motor boats, and motor vehicles displaying "T" ration stickers.

German Retreat Made Shambles By Allied Fliers

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Final collapse of Premier Mussolini's African empire appeared to be only a matter of hours today amid signs that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was hastily abandoning the burning city of Tripoli, and British 8th Army columns stormed forward within 35 miles of the Axis stronghold.

Tripoli is the last citadel of Italy's Dark Continent domain which once embraced Eritrea, Italian Somaliland, Abyssinia, Cirenica and Tripolitania.

Retreat A Shambles

A bulletin from Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's 8th Army headquarters said British troops yesterday captured the towns of Tarhuna and Homs, respectively 40 and 56 miles from Tripoli, and continued their pursuit of Rommel's fleeing armies.

Frontline dispatches said Rommel's troops and equipment were already streaming westward from Tripoli toward the Tunisian frontier, 100 miles away, with Allied planes making a shambles of the enemy's line of retreat.

A 50-mile stretch of coastal road between Tripoli and Zuara was described as littered with the bombed and bullet-smashed wreckage of trucks and other equipment.

Empire Tumbles

British headquarters indicated that Tarhuna and Homs fell early yesterday and said that "during the day our troops were in close contact with the enemy retreating to the west."

For the moment, the downfall of Mussolini's once proud African realm eclipsed other events, but vital developments were shaping elsewhere in the global war:

WILDCAT COAL STRIKE ENDS; 3000 ARE OUT

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 21 (AP)—A three-weeks old wildcat strike in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields—the nation's costliest in man hours lost since Pearl Harbor—apparently ended today a few hours before a back-to-work deadline set by President Roosevelt.

Enthusiastic miners by the thousands trooped back to their jobs in all major strike-closed collieries in what one strike leader described as "a courtesy to the President" rather than an acceptance of defeat.

Of the 24,000 who once participated in the revolt against United Mine Workers' leadership, barely 3,000 were known still to be idle as the crowds of overworked workers rode down colliery shafts to their pits, many for the first time since Dec. 30.

Two of the four small UMW locals still out announced meetings for later today and many members believed back-to-work votes would result.

To Fight Added Dues

Only one of the four was committed to "wait out" Mr. Roosevelt's zero hour sometime this afternoon, when, he had said, the "necessary steps" would be taken if necessary to "end this strike which is doing serious damage to the war effort."

Strikers and others took the President's warning to mean that troops would be sent to take over any collieries still strike-bound at the end of the 48-hour grace he allowed when his order was telegraphed shortly after noon Tuesday.

"There is nothing to gain by staying out," said Hugh Cavanaugh, president of the South Wilkes-Barre colliery local of Glen Alden Coal company, the world's largest anthracite producer.

"We do not want to embarrass the President," he added. "But we will continue to fight against the 50-cents a month union dues increase and also for an increase in wages."

The dues issue started the wave of walkouts December 30. Demands for a $2 a day cost-of-living bonus followed.

It was evident before starting whistles sounded at 7 a. m. (EWT) today that the back of the strike had been broken.

ARMY PROMOTION

Howard L. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller, R. 4, and now stationed at Goodfellow Field, Army Air Corps basic flying school at San Angelo, Texas, recently was promoted from the rank of private to the rank of corporal. He is attached to the 56th Base Headquarters and Air Base Squadron.

15,000 JAPS FIGHTING TO ESCAPE TRAP

(By The Associated Press)

Trapped survivors of a 15,000-man Japanese army were reported making desperate attempts to break out of dwindling pockets in the Papuan coastal jungles of New Guinea today, but Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that American and Australian fighters "further reduced the enemy's remaining positions."

Heavy fighting was reported as the Japanese, half starved and in imminent danger of annihilation, sought to escape into the jungle.

"The whole thing is crumbling," an Allied spokesman said.

Meanwhile, United Nations warplanes blasted the enemy from Burma to the south seas, striking on a rising scale against Japanese bases on the northwest approaches to Australia and spread-eagling hundreds of miles of skyway.

Long, Bitter War

A communique said Allied bombers set big fires in a heavy attack on Lae, and pounded enemy targets at Finschhafen and Madang, in northern New Guinea; Cape Gloucester and Gasmata, New Britain; and points in the Aroe islands, on Ambon and Timor.

A Japanese barge concentration was also attacked off Willaumez peninsula.

Coincidentally, Australia's Air Minister Arthur S. Drakeford predicted that Australian airmen, piloting Australian planes, would drop Australian-made bombs on Tokyo before 1943 ends, but said a long bitter war was in prospect before Japan is defeated.

APPROVES NEW DRAFT TIMING

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP)—Col. B. F. Evans, acting director of Selective Service in Pennsylvania, today announced the approval of "manning tables" and "replacement schedules" filed by eleven Pennsylvania employers.

Under the "manning" plan, employers list employees by age groups and indicate the time required to train replacements for them.

"Replacement schedules" show dates when specific employees will be replaced and thus become available for military service. The eleven schedules filed would release 1,231 employees to the armed forces in the next six months.

The employers are:

Summerill Tubing company, Bridgeport; Merchant Marine Division, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, Lester; supervisory cost inspector, Fourth Naval District, Philadelphia; Platt-LePage Aircraft company, Eddystone; Treadwell Construction company, Midland; Radbill Oil company, Philadelphia; Tabor Manufacturing company, Philadelphia; Electrical Instrument and Engineering company, Philadelphia; Vibration Specialty company, Philadelphia; and Erd company, Waynesboro.

CITES AIMS OF SCHOOLS IN WAR

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP)—Pennsylvania educators today continued discussions of educational problems in wartime in preparation for 16 area conferences and more than 1000 local conferences planned to adjust public schools to the war effort.

Area conferences will begin Jan. 25 at state teachers' colleges and in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. The local conferences will be held later.

Educators attending the conference here yesterday heard Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, declare the aim of education is to remain "our first line of national defense and democratic security whether in peace or in war."

He listed these wartime problems facing educators:

1. Supplying trained man and womanpower to replace workers gone to war.
2. Training of 'teen age boys directly for technical war occupations in preparation for their entrance into the armed forces.
3. Making high school students "better warriors and workers."
4. Preparing students for the civilian occupations in which there is a shortage of workers.

NAVY TO PUBLISH CASUALTY LISTS

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Navy announced today that effective immediately all casualties of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard would be announced in a daily list instead of in periodical accumulations as heretofore.

The first daily list, containing the names of 14 men killed, 15 wounded and 43 missing, was made public yesterday. The Navy will continue to follow the policy of notifying next of kin before making the names public.

Unbeaten Maroons To Meet Delone Catholic On Local Court Friday Evening

JAYVEES WILL PLAY 1ST TILT AT 7 O'CLOCK

Gettysburg high school's basketball team will return to the home court for the first time in exactly a month when it meets Delone Catholic high, of McSherrystown, Friday evening.

The Maroon and White scrubs will play their first game of the season by meeting the Delone reserves at 7 o'clock.

Coach George Forney's undefeated quintet has swept through to four straight victories in convincing style and now are in an excellent position to retain their Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic league championship.

Hanover Next
At present the Maroons are tied with Hanover for the lead in the southern division of the circuit. These teams clash January 29 at Hanover and the outcome will go a long way in deciding the southern tilt. A victory at Hanover would just about sew up the division honors for the Maroons inasmuch as the remaining games on the league schedule will be played on the local floor.

The league championship will be decided in a playoff between the winner of the northern and southern divisions.

Despite the record of Delone which shows four wins as against five setbacks, the Maroons are priming for a stiff battle. The Squires are well-known for their scrappy players and Coach Jake Dracha will have a typical team to throw against Gettysburg.

Starting Lineups
Coach Forney will probably stick to his regular lineup which includes George Fair and Max Sherman, at forwards; George Bochner at center, and Ross Sachs and Bobby March at guards. This combination has been clicking in great style to date and appears to have the requisites for a championship team.
The lineup for Delone will be chosen from Folmer, Miller, Keefer and W. Noel, forwards; Lawrence and Funk, centers, and Sterner, Spangler, H. Noel and McKim, guards.

BIGLER CAGERS LOSE PAIR OF LEAGUE GAMES

Boiling Springs took over the lead in the West Shore Scholastic basketball league by defeating Biglerville high in a double-header played Wednesday evening at Biglerville.

The Biglerville boys were no match for their opponents and went down 46-27. Hess paced the victors with 16 points. The victory was the third straight in league competition for Boiling Springs. It marked the third loss as against as many wins for the McCracken-men.

Showing the effects of being out of action for a month, the Biglerville girls suffered their first defeat after three wins by dropping the preliminary tilt 20-13. Coach Ehman's team missed many comparatively easy shots.

Coach Returns To Former Position

Pittsburgh, Jan. 21 (AP)—John Newton Reed has resigned as football coach at Monessen high school to return to Scott high, where he compiled a spectacular winning record before leaving in 1936.

Charles (Butch) Mihaly, chairman of Scott high school's athletic committee, said Reed has been given a three-year contract as coach and athletic director. He will replace Joe Kliskey, who will remain as basketball coach. Reed coached five years at McKinley high in Canton, O., and for the past two years at Monessen.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—One reason major league baseball clubs are willing to turn loose such old timers as Paul Waner and Johnny Cooney is that they're expecting to have plenty of ball players hanging around after various minor leagues fold up. . . . An official who naturally doesn't want to be quoted says a lot of these circuits still are hanging on only because their presidents want to keep collecting salary checks. . . . Doc Parrish, the harness boss trainer, has applied for a post as an Army veterinarian. If he gets it, you'll probably see cavalry horses trotting a mile in 2:01. . . . Bummy Davis will be celebrating his birthday when he fights Carmen Notch at Pittsburgh Feb. 26.

PUTTING ON THE BITE
Al Kaval, Michigan State college boxing coach, must have wondered whether his charges were taking tips from wrestlers or applying the "get tough" idea too thoroughly when middleweight Charlie Calkins reported he had suffered a severe bite on his arm in a training bout. When Charlie's opponent rushed in, his mouth wide open, Calkins swung for the jaw, missed and his arm was caught between the other fellow's teeth.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
There'll be a "natural" for that Red Cross basketball game in New York in March if Ned Irish can match the NCAA champion against the winner of New York's own invitation tournament. . . . Jimmy Smith, who had that famous kitchen championship scrap with son-in-law Billy Conn, once got into the same kind of fuss with his old pal Harry Greb—and never would say what caused it. . . . Chancellor John Stewart Bryan, who was honorary captain of the successful William and Mary football team last fall, has been elected to that position for life. . . . Outfielder Hal Peck, who accidentally shot off a couple of toes last fall before Milwaukee sold him to the Dodgers, has been summoned by his draft board for examination. Hal figures he'll be able to navigate around a ball field since he kept pace with his wife on a Christmas shopping tour.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Billy Kelly, Buffalo Courier-Express: "In trafficking between the new park and the hotel, a distance of some two miles, the Giants will use horse-drawn buggies. The entire picture will be reminiscent of 1896. Cars will be barred from the camp and players will be encouraged to sprout handle-bar mustaches. Joe Eastman, head of ODT, has been invited to throw out the first ball on March 15th." (Ed's note: We thought Judge Landis threw out the horses some time ago.)

SERVICE DEPT.
Roy Morwood, a former Centenary end now at the Salt Lake Army Air Base, recalls that he went to high school with a skinny kid who tried hard to make the football team without much luck. The kid's name was Don Hutson—who means bad luck for the Packers' opponents now.

Lieut. Col. Felix Hardison, skipper on the Suzy-Q, the plane that is said to have engaged in more raids and fights than any other ship ever lived through, used to box on the U of Idaho team and Manuel Ortega, a ground crew man who has been overhauling the plane at El Paso, took time out to swing in the Golden Gloves tournament there. . . . Lieut. Comdr. Mal Stevens, former Yale and NYU football coach, has been assigned to the medical staff of the Sampson, N. Y., Naval Training Station. As a college coach, Mal managed to teach at medical schools in New York and New Haven and practice in both cities, so the boys hereabouts are betting he'll find time to show the sailors something about football next fall.

Opening Date Of Major Loops Set Back One Week; Contracts Held Up Awaiting New Ruling

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—Everything is being set back a week in the coming Major league baseball season—including the opening. The close and the all-star game—and even the "holdout" campaign, which precedes each pennant fight, may be in for an enforced delay.

This was indicated yesterday when President William Harridge of the American league met with President Ford Frick of the National loop to complete the schedule adjustments brought about by wartime necessity.

Harridge disclosed that all clubs in his circuit had been asked to hold up player contracts until the director of economic stabilization rules whether baseball comes under the salary freezing order. Frick said National league clubs were withholding contracts for the same reason, with the exception of the New York Giants, who are proceeding under a regional ruling.

Seek Ruling
Baseball's advisory council, headed by Commissioner K. M. Landis, has asked for the national ruling on the matter of salaries, and players won't receive their contracts until it is made. Thus, no player can start his annual spring "holdout" for more money until he finds out how much he's being offered in the first place.

The 1943 season, the league presidents agreed, will open on Wednesday, April 21, and close Sunday, October 3. The annual all-star game will be played Tuesday, July 13, at Shibe Park in Philadelphia, with the Athletics of the American league as sponsors.

Since the Washington Senators open on the road, they will be hosts to the Philadelphia Athletics in a preliminary game, April 20, under a time-honored arrangement of having a special opening game at the nation's capital every other year.

Opening Games
Here is the schedule for the April 21 opening:

American league: Washington at New York, Boston at Philadelphia, Chicago at St. Louis, Detroit at Cleveland. National league: New York at Brooklyn, Philadelphia at Boston, St. Louis at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at Chicago.

Home openers for the teams that start on the road will be Tuesday, April 27, in the National league and either April 26 or 27 in the American league. The schedule for these games:

American league—New York at Boston, Philadelphia at Washington, Cleveland at Chicago, St. Louis at Detroit. National league—Boston at New York, Brooklyn at Philadelphia, Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, Chicago at St. Louis.

Save Many Miles
With each team making no more than three trips into any other city, the officials estimated that 2,400,000 man-miles would be saved in transportation during the regular season. This, together with the mileage saved by training close to home, matedly 5,000,000 man-miles, they said.

The three-trip plan and the late starting date combine to give the Majors an intersectional flavor on two holidays for the first time in history. On Memorial Day, which will be observed on Monday, May 31, all American league teams will be in the east and all National league teams in the west. The situation will be reversed on Independence Day, to be celebrated on Monday, July 5. The schedules:

Holiday Tilts
May 31, National league—Boston at Pittsburgh, New York at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Chicago, Brooklyn at St. Louis; American league—Cleveland at Washington, Detroit at Philadelphia, Chicago at New York, St. Louis at Boston.

July 5, National league—Cincinnati at Boston, Chicago at Brooklyn, Pittsburgh at New York, St. Louis at Philadelphia; American league—Boston at Chicago, New York at St. Louis, Washington at Detroit, Philadelphia at Cleveland.

On Labor Day, eastern teams will play other eastern teams and western clubs all will be in the west in both leagues as in previous years.

Rest
Rest is the time the body asks
Renewing strength for further tasks,
A few brief hours to sleep, and then
Back to the world to work again!

Heroes
For service more than duty's call
They wear their medals, one and all,
And when we ask them how and why,
"Twas just our luck," they all reply.

Prayer For Soldiers
This I make my daily prayer
As flags for service I behold:
Bright little blue star shining there
May never you be turned to gold.

Freedom And Tyranny

Is proof that we to speak are free.
Only the tongues of slaves are mute,
Afraid their masters to dispute.

THE HEALING HOURS

A day is a great deal like a well written chapter in a good book. It has its high and low points. But usually a well written chapter in a good book leads the reader to a good climax so that there will be a mental hunger to go on.

That chapter is usually started with intellectual fervor. The day is like that. We have had our rest and we rise with new resolves, new hopes for the day. But as the hours run on we are apt to experience many a confused or difficult problem. But, as all days have an end, we gather up our experiences as memories and mull over them as the shadows lengthen, and night draws on. Then in our home, or during some recreation hours, the healing time comes.

The stars come out. The lights of the city appear in full blaze. There is warmth in the home and welcoming words bring peace and suggest relaxation. But not until all lights of the day are out, and we retire to our bed for the night does the final healing hour put in its work. We self-review. We read a few soothing and inspiring paragraphs. We offer a prayer of thanks. Then we close our eyes and ask that the bandage of night may heal our soul, repairing every wound of the heart.

These healing hours are indeed important—be they perfumed with the scent of the night air, inspired by silent communication with the mysteries of the universe, or illumined by kindly human voices that mellow the hurts or ills of the day.

It is tragic enough for anyone to go to his bed at night hungry in body, but it is doubly tragic for him to spend his last hours hungry in heart and starving of soul. The end of any day should be one of glorious healing to every mental and moral faculty. Spiritual richness should crown the effort of every human being's day.

Everything may not be all right with the world, but God is nevertheless still in his heaven. That is something that we should always bear in mind.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Happy Thinking Habit."

Brown Given Free Hand As Administrator Of OPA

RISE IN PRICES ENVISIONED AS HUGE PROBLEM

By JACK BELL

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—Given a free hand to make or break himself, Prentiss M. Brown set sail on stormy OPA seas today with a bid for consumer support of a program envisioning gradually rising prices, increased local controls over rationing and fewer cold homes next winter.

Isolating himself for a 10-day look-see at the inner operations of OPA, the new price administrator went to work on several pressing problems. These included the imminent necessity of going to Congress for a $20,000,000 deficiency appropriation, the need for additional transportation subsidy money and the possibility of a shakeup in his agency's top personnel.

Succeeds Henderson
Brown, 53-year-old former Senator from Michigan, took over formally from Leon Henderson with the reputed understanding that he would be given a free hand by his immediate boss, James F. Byrnes, the economic stabilization director, to work out the country's supply and demand problems with the consuming public, Congress and the farmers.

Brown made it plain he was interested primarily in keeping the economic machinery operating at top speed to supply the weapons and food needed by the armed forces, without creating unnecessary friction on the home front.

"The keynote of rationing and price control will not be imposition, but protection of the public," he told a crowded press conference yesterday. "I think the President put me here for the purpose of making plain to the people why we do the things we do. I hope we can do a job that will satisfy the American people and Congress, so far as they can be satisfied."

Build Fuel Supplies
One of his first projects, he said, would be to learn if water route transportation could not be used to greater advantage this summer in building up the eastern seaboard's supplies of fuel oil and gasoline for a next winter.

"The winter of 1943-44 should certainly be better than this one because we ought to be better prepared," he commented.

Brown, who drove to Washington in his own car from his home at St. Ignace, Mich., with the aid of special essential-trip gasoline tickets, said he felt as bad about gasoline rationing as the public. He liked to drive through the Virginia and Maryland countryside, but that recreation is out for a while, he said.

Gasoline curtailment in the west is necessary, he continued, primarily to free rail tank cars to haul fuel to the east.

Ration Boards To Quit Unless OPA Alters Rules

Sharon, Pa., Jan. 21 (AP)—Seventeen members of the ration boards at Sharon, Farrell, Sharpsville and Greenville have voted to resign unless certain rulings of the Office of Price Administration on the rationing of gasoline and food were modified.

(In Pittsburgh, Walter R. Cartwright, district OPA administrator, said he had not knowledge of Tuesday's action by the boards.)

The 17 members are the full complement of ration boards in the Shenango valley industrial area, which includes several thousand workers employed on construction of the Army Personnel Replacement Center.

C. B. Lantz, secretary of the Mercy county ration board, said he favored the local boards' action.

Dr. Howard E. Mather, Farrell board chairman, said the OPA ruling depriving local boards of the right to pass upon applications for "extra gas" placed "too much authority" in the hands of state and district bodies unfamiliar with local conditions.

1 egg 1 tablespoon
2 teaspoons salt 1 cup chopped parsley
3/4 teaspoon pepper 1 cup milk
2 tablespoons 1/4 cup catsup
minced onion 1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
1 pound ground beef

Beat egg, add salt, pepper, onion, parsley, milk, catsup and All-Bran. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Add beef and mix thoroughly. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) about 20 minutes or broil about 15 minutes. Remove meat patties from pan. Add some milk and seasonings to drippings. Thicken slightly to make gravy. Yield: 8 servings, 2 patties each.

RIGHT AT HOME
Harrisburg (AP)—Pennsylvania's new Governor, inaugurated Tuesday, ought to feel at home in his official residence.

The state linen, silverware and other household equipment is marked "EM"—for executive mansion.

The Governor's name: Edward Martin.

BLACK SHEEP?
Fairview, Okla. (AP)—Stormy weather cut his church attendance so the Rev. C. L. Moser advertised in the lost-and-found column.

His sheep had strayed, the notice read, and "only 23 came for feed in the morning."

Shortly thereafter his telephone began to ring. Each time he said "hello" he got the same reply:

"Baa-a-a!"

ILL-WIND ITEM
Independence, Mo. (AP)—The false alarm wasn't a total failure, firemen acknowledged.

Mrs. Alene Medley, living near the scene of the reported fire, had lost her cow, but—frightened by the fire truck's siren, it dashed back home again.

PUBLIC NUISANCE!
Dallas, Tex. (AP)—The county rationing board must move from the county hall of records, said the commissioners court in a written notice.

"Unfortunately we feel impelled to inform you that the presence of the board, serving a frantic rationed people, has seriously impeded the function of several county departments," the notice said.

Then they explained: The waiting people, it seemed, borrowed chairs from other county offices "with such regularity we had to chain the chairs to the floor."

EDITORS WILL HEAR MARINE

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP)—Pennsylvania newspaper publishers will get a first-hand report on the American drive on Henderson airfield on Guadalcanal island last summer from Col. Leroy R. Hunt, a Marine officer who led the attack, at a luncheon tomorrow.

Colonel Hunt's address will be a highlight of a two-day convention of the Newspaper Publishers association. Some 300 newspaper executives also will hear Governor Martin. Lieut. (jg) Rebecca Gross of the WAVES, former managing editor of the Lock Haven Express, will be a guest.

Convention sessions will be featured by talks by William G. Chandler, director of the WPB's printing and publishing division; Sylvester Garrett, Philadelphia regional War Labor board director; Matthew G. Sullivan, president of the International Circulation Managers' association and newspaper consultant for the WPB and several U. S. Treasury representatives.

Weekly newspaper publishers, at two separate sessions will hear Hugh H. Boyd of the War department; Dr. Stuart A. Mahuran of the Pennsylvania State College School of Journalism; L. A. Henderson, Montgomery Mirror, and Charles M. Meredith, Jr., Quakertown Free Press.

Miles Horst, new state secretary of Agriculture, and Jack Winocour, director of the British Information Service, will be other convention speakers.

TAX VIOLATION
New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—Dr. Mandel Frankel, 45, of Mount Bethel, Pa., will be sentenced February 15 on a charge of underpaying by $36,000 his income taxes for the years 1928 to 1932 inclusive. He pleaded guilty in federal court Tuesday.

SLAG SLIDE KILLS BOY
Pittsburgh, Jan. 21 (AP)—A sudden slide of tons of slag yesterday crushed to death 11-year old Billy Gourley as he led a group of playmates "over the top" of a slag pile during a mock battle. The boy's companions escaped injury. Police and neighbors dug almost half an hour before finding the body beneath about four feet of slag.

PREDICTS FOOD PRODUCTION IN '43 TO BE LOW

State College, Pa., Jan. 21 (AP)—Dr. S. W. Fletcher, dean of the School of Agriculture of Pennsylvania State college, today predicted American food production in 1943 would not only drop below that of 1942, but would be less than "normal" because of the farm labor shortage.

"No well-considered plan to safeguard American food production has been developed," Doctor Fletcher said in a statement, adding "the government has allowed farms to be stripped of manpower."

He did not say what was meant by normal production.

Declaring the government should return skilled laborers to the farms, Doctor Fletcher pointed out a slack in production would be especially serious now as "food will be America's trump card" in negotiations after the war.

"When this conflict is over," he went on, "the influence of the United States will depend primarily on its two great sources of power—armed might and food."

There are many evidences "of the coming food shortage on Pennsylvania's farms," he said, adding many dairy cows "are being sent to the butcher's block" and much fertile farm land "will lie idle this year."

He declared the recruiting of high school boys and girls for farm work and the transfer of labor from other centers "may relieve the situation, but will not get at the root of the trouble."

"The fundamental corrective," Doctor Fletcher said, "is to return to the farms the skilled labor which never should have been permitted to leave. If this cannot be done, we must be resigned to a steadily increasing food shortage in America."

Doctor Fletcher estimated that of the skilled labor lost to farmers in 1942, two-thirds left for war industry jobs and one-third went into the armed services.

Aide To Lehman Killed In Crash

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—William Hodson, New York city welfare commissioner on leave to assist former governor Herbert H. Lehman, newly-appointed director of foreign relief and rehabilitation, was killed in an airplane accident in Surinam (formerly Dutch Guiana), his family has been notified.

The family said last night that the State department informed it that Hodson had been killed at Paramaribo. No other details were disclosed.

Convict Soldier Of Manslaughter

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP)—Convicted by a Dauphin county jury of voluntary manslaughter in the death of Mrs. Mabel A. Harris, 73, last Oct. 1, Private Steve Goscinski, 28, Washington, Pa., awaited his attorneys' decision on whether to ask for a new trial.

The verdict was returned Tuesday after the jury had deliberated for five and a half hours. District Attorney Carl B. Shelley had asked for a first degree murder verdict. Court officials said the penalty for voluntary manslaughter in Pennsylvania is a maximum of twelve years.

Unless a motion for a new trial is made within three days, the soldier will be called for sentence, court attaches explained.

SAYS SESSION IS HARMONIOUS

Harrisburg, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Senate's republican floor leader, Weldon B. Heyburn, Delaware, believes the current General Assembly session "will be harmonious" and that it "should produce legislation of benefit to the commonwealth and its war effort."

"Next week we'll get the bills out of committee," he adds. "We are interested in getting a calendar ready so we can get to work and do a real job."

The Legislature is in recess until Monday when both the House and Senate will convene again at 9 p. m.

Before recessing yesterday, the Senate received 41 bills including proposals to reapportion congressional districts, change school laws to permit pupils to help in the manpower shortage, set up a basic plan for local option referendum, and rip out the new state parole board.

The local option bill would transfer jurisdiction of referendum from county election boards to the state election board and require certification of results to both the secretary of the commonwealth and the state liquor control board.

Since 1934, 40 per cent of the state's 2571 political subdivisions have voted on the wet and dry issue in odd-numbered years. No community may hold local option referendum more than once every four years.

NO MORE BREAD KNIVES

CHILE STARTS AXIS CLEAN-UP

Santiago, Chile, Jan. 21 (AP)—Chilean authorities undertook today the suppression of Axis espionage and liquidation of fifth column activity following Chile's rupture of relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

The government pledged that no steps would be taken against Axis nationals who abided by Chile's newly-adopted position.

It was estimated there are about 20,000 German nationals in Chile, chiefly in the southern part of the country, about 12,000 Italians, chiefly retail tradesmen spread evenly throughout the country, and 700 Japanese. The latter are comparatively recent arrivals and reside chiefly in northern Chile's strategic ports and mining centers.

President Juan Antonio Rios explained Chile's action last night in a broadcast address to the nation, saying it had been done for the defense of democracy and continental solidarity.

Fifty seniors in the college will receive degrees, while 25 others in the law school will be awarded diplomas. Fourteen of the law school seniors are now in the armed forces.

The law school seniors will hear Judge Claude T. Reno of the Pennsylvania Superior court speak at a banquet Saturday night.

Argentina now is the only nation in the western hemisphere which maintains diplomatic and commercial relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

Officials At Odds On Railway Wages

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—With a request expected daily from the non-operating railroad brotherhoods for appointment of an emergency board to hear their wage demands, government officials still were at odds over which agency should pass final judgment on railway wages.

An apparent conflict in the provisions of two presidential orders will have to be resolved, the officials agree, but the manner of doing it has been debated for weeks without result. The railroads and the unions meantime have chosen sides, the railroads arguing for the War Labor board and the union preferring a hearing by an emergency board which would then report directly to the President.

The President issued an emergency order last May creating a panel of nine persons and stipulating that when mediation fails in a railway dispute the unions may appeal to the chairman of the panel who may then select three members of the panel to serve as an emergency board.

It's Patriotic To Keep Well

GOOD HEALTH FOR SKIN

By Wilda Camery, R.N.
When we hear an individual described as one whose skin is fresh, clean and blooming, we immediately think, "Aha, a healthy one!" Usually we're right. His personal hygiene will usually include regularity of bathing and washing with soap and water, good dietary habits, adequate and regular elimination, daily fresh air, exercise and sufficient rest. Immediately we become apostles of the creed which proclaims, "Beauty of skin comes from intelligent observance of the laws of health."

Soon we meet a teen-age youngster whose skin is dull and muddy, marked with ugly blotches. We impart to her our secret of skin health. She admits too many chocolate sundaes, too little sleep, sketchy washing and recent adoption of face powder. She recalls her skin troubles began when she substituted her own ideas of personal care for those taught by her mother. Eagerly she follows our advice and as she returns to good general health practices, her skin improves.

With increased confidence, we repeat our magic formula to another adolescent. He looks at us skeptically, and assures us he has no habits to change. He has always lived as we advise. We search hurriedly through our knowledge of physiology and drag out this classic bit, "Don't worry, don't pick at your skin, continue with daily soap and water cleansing. You're simply passing through a phase. During adolescence our bodies have so many changes to make that for a time they often fail to adjust and one of the results is a skin eruption similar to yours."

Well, he keeps on with the magic formula, but he can't stop worrying; he can't keep his hands away from the eruptions. Finally, we persuade him to see the family doctor.

The doctor examines the boy and finds an abscessed tooth. He explains that such infections hidden in various parts of the body often reveal themselves by skin blemishes. He continues, saying that sometimes a skin disorder can be cured by endocrine therapy; again treatment consists of allergy study to determine what specific food or foods may be the cause. On occasion, x-ray therapy is effectual.

NO EXTRA GAS FOR WEST AREA

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—The hope of western Pennsylvania motorists for an extra gallon of gasoline a week was dashed last night by an OPA spokesman who said it was unlikely the four-gallon area would be extended eastward from the Pennsylvania-Ohio border to include the Allegheny mountain counties.

J. A. Y. Walz, an information specialist of the OPA's mileage rationing program, said the gasoline rationing line was moved westward by the petroleum administrator's office when the pleasure-driving ban was instituted, because it was felt that "although gasoline was produced in western Pennsylvania, that gasoline should be made available for other areas in the east where the shortage was acute."

Walz said "it is unlikely that any change will be made until there is definite improvement in the gasoline situation."

At Meadville, Pa., the Rev. Perry J. Cook, Crawford county rationing co-ordinator, said county business organizations, war industries and oil refineries had joined in telegraphed protests to OPA against inclusion of the district in the three-gallon zone comprising 17 eastern states and the District of Columbia. Mr. Cook cited what he termed

Income Tax

No. 16
Compensation For Personal Services

The first item of income to be entered in the Federal income tax return is "Salaries and Other Compensation for Personal Services." This item includes, in general, all earnings and compensation from employment, and other income of a personal nature, such as prize winnings and the like. Compensation for personal services includes commissions paid to salesmen, compensation for services on the basis of percentage of profits, commissions on insurance premiums earned by insurance salesmen or agents, bonuses whether in cash or securities or goods, the value of board and lodging (where such is not provided for the convenience of the employer,) earnings paid for in groceries, goods, or services (at the market value of such goods or services), and the like.

It includes the salary of a clergyman, as well as marriage fees, baptismal offerings, sums paid for saying masses for the dead, and other contributions received by the clergyman or priest, and not paid to the church. The rental value of a parsonage supplied is, however, exempt and need not be included; but if no parsonage is furnished and instead an allowance for a parsonage or quarters is given, the amount of this allowance must be included as income. Transportation charges paid by the Government on account of the transportation of families of military and naval personnel are in the nature of additional compensation and must be reported as income; but the allowances for quarters and for subsistence are exempt.

Persons in the military or naval service of the United States at the close of the taxable year, below commissioned grades, are exempt from taxation on compensation received during the year for such service up to $250 in the case of a single person and $300 in the case of a married person, and the exempt amount may be excluded in showing compensation received.

Old age and retirement pensions, except those paid by the United States to war veterans, must be reported, but where the employee has made contributions toward the pension fund, only a portion of the pension is considered as income. (For the manner of treatment of such compensation see Instruction 7 of Return Form 1040.)

The earnings of a professional man, such as a lawyer or doctor maintaining his own office, would not be entered under Item 1 as compensation for personal services, but under Item 9—Net Profit (or Loss) from Business or Profession. For purposes of the earned income credit (Item 25 of the return form), however, his professional income is considered as compensation for personal services.

The ordinary and necessary expenses incurred in connection with one's employment may be deducted in arriving at the net amount of salaries and other compensation for personal services. The amount of such expenses is shown on the same line with the income and the net amount is entered. An itemized statement of such expenses must, however, be attached to the return.

Persons in the military or naval service of the United States at the close of the taxable year, below

News For the Sufferers of RHEUMATISM CONSTIPATION WEAK KIDNEYS For Better Health!

WITH YOUR OWN EYES! SEE AND BELIEVE the relief you get from these ailments. By a NATURAL astonishing easy way. Without the use of harmful drugs. You may UP-ROOT and drive them OUT of your system. Regardless of how long you have been suffering. It takes ONLY 3 days to prove it. TO SEE—NOT to guess the results.

DRUGLESS HEALTH—NATURE'S WAY.—Constipation DO NOT CURE constipation. Doctors can tell you that! BIO-MINERAL is NOT a cathartic. It works the NATURAL way. Watch your elimination from your bowels after taking BIO-MINERAL. In 2 or 3 days, the waste, black as coal and hard as rock, may break from the walls of the colon, and you will see it in the stool. It is almost unbelievable that such waste could be in your intestines, UNTIL YOU SEE IT!

Drugless Health!
AFTER 3 DAYS examine your urine. You may see small pieces of white stone, threads and crystal-like matter, which should not be in your system—POISONS—coming out, relieving you! THESE poisons, collecting there probably for years, like rust in an old iron pipe, were weakening your kidneys and ruining your digestive system. Be sure to watch for these symptoms to realize the priceless value of BIO-MINERAL.

PHARMACISTS—CHEMISTS do not make BIO-MINERAL. It comes from the depths of the earth, Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol—NO drugs—NO dope—NO oil. NOT A SINGLE habit forming ingredient. ONLY Natural, Life-Giving MINERALS—the oldest and most reliable remedy for Rheumatism, Arthritis, Neuritis, Stomach and Kidney disorders.

Natural Minerals!
FOR MANY CENTURIES, Medical science has believed in the curative properties of minerals. Now, at last, never before, Doctors, Hospitals, Sanatoriums, Naturalists and Specialists are stressing the importance of Minerals. The cry is: MINERALS!! MINERALS!!

Sufferers go to mineral springs to get cure or relief. In BIO-MINERAL you get the very same Natural minerals of the famous springs in highly-concentrated form. As a logical thing, there should be a bottle of BIO-MINERAL in every home to take the place of physics, cathartics, oils and all harmful drugs.

PACIFIC PATROL

Chapter 30

IN THE AXIS TRAP

At the sound of her voice, he stirred, groaned. A second lighted match showed that he was awake—and completely conscious. He moistened his lips, blinked at the tiny light.

"Dan!" Involuntarily, Mary reached out to lay her hand against his cheek. "Dan—darling!"

His hand caught her's at once. "Mary?" He sat up quickly.

The tiny match flame flickered then and went out. But not before Mary had seen the expression on his face. That and her relief at finding him alive and apparently well joined forces with a very simple desire to feel his arms around her. Sobbing now, she flung herself against his shoulder, clung to him.

"Mary, Mary, my dear little sweetheart. Don't cry," he whispered against her hair as he held her tight. "Please, darling."

And when she got the sobs under control, he found her lips with his own, kissed her lingeringly, hungrily. After a moment he tucked her head back under his chin, rocked her gently while he whispered:

"Mary, my sweet. To think I'd never believed in miracles before! Here I've been lying in this black hole for a couple of eternities cursing my luck and thinking that by today you'd be married to His Nibs."

He pulled back, looked down at her and while Mary couldn't see a line of his face, she knew he must be smiling. "You aren't yet, are you?"

Mary shook her head. "No, Dan. Not yet."

"You mean—honest—you're not going to—"

She felt him fumble for her left hand, press her ring finger searchingly. "It's not there, Dan," she laughed softly. "I gave it back to him. I found I'd—made a mistake."

Dan whistled softly, hugged her close. "Now make this lovely dream come true by saying that you are going to marry me."

"Well—if you are sure you haven't mistaken me for a black-haired singer named Carmenita," she teased.

Dan laughed. "No fair digging that up, honey. When you stuck so tight by your promise to Lloyd, I was desperate to try the old rival angle."

Songs In Code

Below them, a door slammed shut, voices were as clear as if they were in the same room. But completely unintelligible to Mary. The throaty, guttural words meant nothing at all. But the inflection told her their captors were excited, certainly. And angry.

Then over the angry violence of the shouting, came the sound of a radioed voice. Instantly the two men below stopped talking, another door opened, shut. Only the steady drone from the radio continued.

Mary could contain herself no longer. "Who are they?"

"Enemy agents landed here by submarine about three weeks ago. The uniforms are phony, of course. But they all have them."

"Tell me, Dan. How did you know?"

He bent close, muted even his whispers until Mary could scarcely hear. "I got a hunch first from Carmenita. She's a phony, too, you know. Her father's in a concentration camp in Germany. She's trying to play ball with these boys to get him out. They've got her scared stiff."

"When did you discover that?"

"The afternoon they got the railroad trestle. I'd been, suspicious of her up to that time but I couldn't get anything on her."

Mary's own memory began taking things out of that file. That morning on the beach when the grey-coated Dan had shadowed Carmenita! That morning later when she'd found him and the boat.

"Yes, go on."

"Then the day of that benefit show I tumbled—at least I was pretty sure I'd guessed her scheme. Those songs she sang—the 'native ballads'—were coddled to give the signal. All that stuff was broadcast, you know."

Mary gasped. "Of course. And the day I went to her villa looking for you, I found a piece of that music all numbered."

"Now—by George I hope you still have that. I've tried to get a sample of the code. The experts can do a lot with that piece of music, honey." Then he snorted.

"This is, if we ever get out of here alive so we can call in the experts."

"Oh—we will," Mary assured him, perfectly confident that all was well—or would be. Nothing could dim the glorious joy that was surging within her now.

"I'm not so sure," Dan said gravely. "I've been here three days—feeling pretty lousy some of the time—but for the balance I've been keen to make an escape somehow. But—no dice. There's no way out but down that ladder and the boy with the cannon is there twenty-four hours a day."

Mary turned now to where Standing Bear sat wrapped in silence and deepest shadow. "Our horses will go home, won't they, Standing Bear? They'll know then that we're in trouble."

Third Degree

The Indian grunted. "Horse wait long time. Maybe tonight go home. Maybe tomorrow."

"Well Dan will start the search. Probably has by now," Mary insisted. "He knew you were missing. The authorities know Carmenita disappeared. How did you get here, do you know?"

"Sure. She drove me out to a lonely spot where the two tall and handsones you saw downstairs shanghaied me. I came to in this nice little nest."

"What are they going to do with you, now?"

She felt Dan shrug. "I don't like to guess. Up to now, they invite me downstairs for a little third-degree. Nice boys."

It had begun to rain now. The steady drumming on the roof just over their heads gathered tempo.

"Rain take away tracks. No find us now," muttered old Standing Bear, and seemed to settle back into his gloomy impassiveness. "They will find us," Mary insisted, but more now to reassure herself.

And in the next hour she needed all the reassurance her youthful courage could muster. They came after her, the tall "Captain" stabbed a flashlight into the stifling darkness of the loft, growled.

"Come down, now. You," and shone the light right in her face.

In the room where the swarthy Jap still sat before the radio con-rol board, the "Major" faced her across a narrow desk. For what was about an hour, and seemed three times that long, they questioned her. Back and forth over the same ground. Who was she? Why had she come here? What did she want? What did she do at the look-out post? How many soldiers and sailors did she know? Where were they? How long had she known Sherman?

When they finally ordered her back up to the loft, she was trembling with fury and frustration. How dared they! How dared they!

To be continued

A good way to start the New Year on its way to victory over our enemies is to buy an extra War Bond.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plate. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

GETS 5 YEARS FOR MURDER OF MINE OFFICIAL

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 21 (AP)—William B. Patterson, Jr., 21, was convicted of first degree manslaughter yesterday and sentenced to five years imprisonment for the slaying in January, 1942, of Grover Cleveland Kuhn, coal mine official formerly of Indiana county, Pa.

James Smitherman, 21, a co-defendant, withdrew pleas of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity and pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter under an agreement between the prosecution and defense. He will receive a similar sentence under the agreement.

Both had been indicted on first degree murder charges and the state had asked the death penalty for Patterson when his trial started Jan. 11. Smitherman's trial had been scheduled to open today.

Body Found in Lake

Kuhn, night mine foreman for the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad company, disappeared on the night of Jan. 4, 1942, after visiting a night club near here. A week later his body was found in Ketona lake.

Patterson denied on the stand that he had participated in the slaying and testified he had seen Smitherman "hitting Kuhn" on the rear seat of the victim's automobile after they had left the night club.

The state charged that robbery was the motive for the slaying.

The circuit court jury, which received the Patterson case late Tuesday, stipulated a five-year prison term. Judge John C. Morrow denied a recommendation for probation.

Politics In North Africa Flares Up

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—Observers here eyed the political tangle in North Africa today as a miniature sample of the headaches and complexities involved in fashioning a world peace after the war.

It is believed in informed circles that if Allied troops cooperate successfully in driving the Axis out of Tunisia and a unified French regime representing all anti-Axis factions emerges from the present situation, confidence everywhere will be strengthened in the ability of United Nations statesmanship to solve post-war international problems.

Just as the civil war in Spain was regarded as a little world war, so the political controversy in North Africa is being viewed as a "little world peace."

The United States policy is clear, and has been stated repeatedly. It is to crush the Axis, drive out the invaders, and let the liberated peoples themselves choose their leaders and their forms of government.

Nevertheless in North Africa, where only the first step has been taken toward the liberation of France, political factions already are quarreling over the question of who really represents France.
